The difference your help makes

“Thank you very much indeed for giving a grant to my client – this truly means a great deal - not only for the practical purposes intended, but also the sense that someone cares about his situation. Your help is very much appreciated by both of us.”

Aberdeen Links, Scottish Association for Mental Health

“Many thanks to Fund for Human Need for the awards to clients referred. I have received glowing emails/text messages from clients expressing their sincere gratitude for the awards. Be in no doubt, your help gives welcome relief/financial breathing space.”

Enabling Lives Project Worker,
First Love Foundation

“Awards give timely support to people so that they can move forward in their lives with dignity. FHN grant recipients have been able to sign up for educational courses, complete and pass them; obtain housing; gain full-time employment in careers and industries of their choosing; provide for their children; and move in the direction of developing greater financial stability for themselves, and stability in other things too for their families.”

Where a little means a lot

Fund for Human Need gives one-off relief payments to tide people over when they are destitute and desperate.

The Methodist Church

Fund for Human Need

FHN was founded in 1960 by people who believed they had a responsibility to heed Jesus' commands and offer help to the poorest and most needy people. Since 2000 the focus of FHN's work has been on making grant payments to some of the most vulnerable and needy in the United Kingdom. Of the many applications received each month, 15% come from individuals and 85% come from front-line organisations supporting destitute clients.

Every year we rise to the challenge of helping people in the most desperate situations all over the United Kingdom.

2022 was a record year, our relief payments directly benefited the lives of over 1,300 people, meeting immediate needs, providing food, clothing and other living essentials, including electricity and gas, and whatever the individual or family needed most. We distributed over £76,000 through our partner organisations (130 in total) or directly into the hands of the people who needed it most.

None of this would have been possible without your support.

It's not just about giving money, but love and hope besides.

Payments are made irrespective of faith, ethnic origin or social group to:

- the homeless and hungry
- people whose benefits have been stopped, or have to wait 5 weeks or more for them to start
- refugees and asylum seekers living one day to the next
- ex-prisoners trying to rebuild their lives
- those with mental health issues
- those whose relationships have broken down

JT* is a young man who is currently living in a homeless hostel. He started claiming universal credit, but when the Department of Work and Pensions realised he had made an error in his application, his benefit was stopped and he was told to start a new claim which is proving problematic. (Any review or new claim takes 6-8 weeks.) JT is a vulnerable young man with diagnosed social and communication difficulties.

Mary* is a migrant with 'No Recourse to Public Funds'. She has fled domestic abuse and has two small children. They are currently housed by a family, but that is not long term. She has no regular income and survives on food-bank parcels and support from private individuals. Having enough money for food, toiletries and clothing is challenging. In addition, the children have recently started pre-school and that requires a daily bus-journey and a bus-pass of £15/week.
